Ramp to Speaker's Platform. President Roosevelt walked up a specially built ramp to the Spe er's platform, where Speaker Rainey and Vice-President Garner awaited him. He carred a cane in his right hand; with his left he grasped the arm of his tall son James. As the President moved up the ramp, smiling, the Senators and Representatives on the floor and the packed galleries broke into applause. The greeting continued for a couple of minutes, with cheers and a rebel yell or two rising above the handclapping, while he stood waiting to speak. Speaker Rainey presented him, another cheer was down to an attentive hearing of the message. He began speaking His Tribute to Finland.

Frequent applause interrupted the 21-minute speech. When the President announced, in a ringing voice, that "child labor has been abolished," the applause was especially strong, but nothing that he said was greeted with so much enthusiasm as his tribute—in the tone of his voice as well as his words—to Finland.

WANTS SOME KIND OF PLAN AT ONCE

Points Out That State, With $2,000,000 Deficit, Is Losing Revenue Through Unlicensed Sale

By CURTIS A. BETTS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 3 .-Gov Park and Senator Kinney. president pro tem of the Senate, entered the conference on the liquor control bill last night in an effort, so far futile, to bring about an agreement. The committee, which has had the bill three weeks, recessed until today without having made any real progress toward the completion of liquor control legis-

Reports from the conference, which were very meager because of an agreement that nothing of the discussions should be told outside the committee, were that the Governor indicated a willingness to accept almost any kind of a liquor bill, his main idea being to have the Legislature complete its work and adjourn. He is reported to have again di-rected attention to the Democratic party platform pledges that the oon should not return, but have been less insistent than he had been for a law which would permit only sale by the package.

Public Indignation Spreads.

The public indignation over the ession of the Legislature without action on liquor and on the sales tax finally has reached the capital, and party leaders seemingare determined that an agree ment shall be reached and legislative session closed by the end of this week.

Senator Donnelly, majority floor leader, said today he was confident this would be accomplished, but in view of statements by other mem bers of the committee that it was no nearer a solution of the problem than it was three weeks ago, it is difficult to see how it can be done

ville expressed his view of the sit uation in this way: "I think if we could get an engineer to make a survey he would find we were just where we started. We haven't lost any ground. We have held our

The conferees appear to be making an effort to work out a provision in the bill which would permit the sale of liquor by the drink in cities above 10,000, or above 20,000 population, the exact figure being general sale by the bottle anywhere in the State.

An agreement to that effect would mean that the Senate would recede from its demand that sale by the drink be permitted in all incorpo rated cities and towns and that the House would recede from its de mand that there be no sale by the drink except in St. Louis.

The House members have not yet given their approval to the proposal and may not do so. Even if they should, there is doubt that their report would be approved by Disorder is not an American habit. Self help and self control are the essence of the American tradition-not of necessity the form of that tradition, but its spirit. The program itself comes from the American people.

It is an integrated program, national in scope. Viewed in the large, it is designed to save from destruction and to keep for the future the genuinely important values created by modern society.

The vicious and wasteful parts of that society we could not save if we wished; they have chosen the way of self-de-

We would save useful mechanical invention, machine production, industrial efficien cy, modern means of communication, broad education.

We would save and encourage the slowly growing impulse among consumers to enter the industrial market place equipped with sufficient organization to insist upon fair prices and honest sales. But the unnecessary expansion of industrial plants, the waste of natural resources, the exploitation of the consumer of natural monopolies, the accumulation of stagnant pluses, child labor, and the ruthless exploitation of all labor, the encouragement of speculation with other people's money, these were consumed in the fires that they themselves kindled; we must make sure that as we reconstruct our life there be no soil in which such weeds can grow again.

Points Out That State, With $2,000,000 Deficit, Is Losing Revenue Through Unlicensed Sale

By CURTIS A. BETTS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 3 .-Gov. Park and Senator Kinney, president pro tem of the Senate, entered the conference on the liquor control bill last night in an effort, so far futile, to bring about an agreement. The committee, which has had the bill three weeks, recessed until today without having made any real progress toward the completion of liquor control legis-

Reports from the conference, which were very meager because of an agreement that nothing of the discussions should be told outside the committee, were that the Governor indicated a willingness to accept almost any kind of a liquor bill, his main idea being to have the Legislature complete its work

the package. Public Indignation Spreads.

The public indignation over the without action on liquor and on the sales tax finally has reached the capital, and party leaders seemingly are determined that an agree-ment shall be reached and the legislative session closed by the end of this week.

Senator Donnelly, majority floor leader, said today he was confident this would be accomplished, but in view of statements by other members of the committee that it was no nearer a solution of the problem than it was three weeks ago, it is difficult to see how it can be done. Representative Taylor of Keytesville expressed his view of the situation in this way: "I think if we could get an engineer to make a survey he would find we were just where we started. We haven't lost any ground. We have held our

Mrs. Emma L. Hehl and Husband Reared 16 Girls and One Boy.

With 13 of her 15 foster children mong the congregation, funeral rvices were conducted yesterday for Mrs. Emma L. Hehl, who died Saturday of heart disease three days after celebrating the fiftyhird anniversary of her marriage to Louis C. Hehl, a former State Representative, but known throughout the South Side as "Daddy" Hehl. She was buried in New St.

Marcus Cemetery.

Called "Aunt Emma" by her foster-children, Mrs. Hehl reared 17 children in the last 45 years in her home at 3242 South Jefferson avenue. Eleven of 16 girls have married—the Hehls had numerous "grandchildren" and even "great-grandchildren"—and two have died. With no children of their own, Mr. and Mrs. Hehl first adopted a boy-now 54 years old, with a family and business of his own. When he married they obtained other children, and three years ago, with a 12-year-old girl in the house, Mrs. "ran across another anywhere, tote her along back home."

The organization will hold another gathering at the same hall, at Twentieth and Salisbury streets, tomorrow night, to get additional signatures. There are 13,431 pieces of property in the district subject to benefit taxes. Time for filing exceptions in Circuit Court will expire Friday, Dr. Wolter pointed out. City Counselor Hay told last night's meeting about the 30 per cent reduction of benefit assess-ments approved by Circuit Court last Saturday on the city's motion. This increases the city's share of the cost from 17 to 38 per cent, Hay Hay said it would be possible to pass an ordinance providing for payment of the benefits in 10 annual installments, if a recent amendment to the City Charter, now being tested in the Supreme Court of Missouri, is upheld.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Two men were convicted by a divided court in Bronx Special Sessions yesterday terdrive, University City. Formerly he operated the Perfection Motor Fuel Co., 1320 Walnut avenue, East St. Louis. of violating a law against displaying the red flag. The law, a mis-demeanor statute, enacted in 1919 to combat post-war radical agita-tion, was thought by attorneys never to have been put to a court test

The defendants, Jack Altman, 28 years old, an organizer for the So-Alexander Ratzkin, 18, Brooklyn student, offered no defense, but their attorney said he would appeal. They were arrested on Sept. 10, while walking at the head of what Altman said was a hiking party composed of members of the Young People's Socialist League. Altman admitted he carried a red flag.

Justice Hyman Bayfiel, dissent-ing from the vote of his two col-leagues, pointed out that President Roosevelt had resumed diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

CHARGED WITH KILLING BROKER

OUGLAS SHERIDAN, 68-yearold broker, was found beaten to death with a claw-hammer in the bathtub of his apartment, 800 Riverside Drive, New York City, in the erside Drive, New 10th City, in the early morning of Dec. 31, his skull crushed by repeated blows. His housekeeper, MRS. CATHERINE PHELAN, 52 years old, was accused of the murder and booked on a homicide charge. Photo shows Mrs. Phelan leaving the police station.

BROKER FINNEY 31-70 635 YEARS

Penalties Imposed on Plea of Guilty to 31 Counts of Forgery and Selling Bogus Bonds in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 3.-Ronald Finney, former bond broker and market speculator, was sentenced to not less than 31 years and not more than 635 years at hard labor in the State penitentiary yesterday on his plea of guilty on 31 counts of forgery and sale of spurious mu-nicipal bonds. He is 34 years old. In pronouncing sentence, Judge Paul H. Heinz disregarded the recommendation of County Attorney Lester Goodell that the minimum term be 15 years as agreed between State and defense counsel at a conference in which the Judge partici-Judge Heinz also overruled a de fense request, joined in by Goodell, that Finney's plea of guilty be withdrawn if the agreement was not to be observed.

Notice of Appeal Given. Finney's attorneys served notice of an appeal from Judge Heinz's refusal to permit a withdrawal of the plea of guilty. Judge Heinz said he would set the amount of

"No reason except the agreement at the time I entered my plea of guilty that sentence would not be greaer than 15 years." "Would that make any difference as to your guilt or innocence? asked the Judge.

"My rights have been disregarded," Finney insisted, "in having me plead guilty under an agreement that was not kept."

Guilty Plea on 31 Counts.
Finney pleaded guilty to 31 counts charging forgery and sale of a $30,000 issue of Hutchinson (Kan.) bonds, one of several is-sues which the State sought to show he had forged and disposed Evidence was presented to show he and his assistant, Leland Caldwell, had nearly $750,000 worth of bogus bonds printed and had dis-posed of them.

It adds something to the Taste and makes them Milder

The picture you see here was taken inside one of our modern storage warehouses where the tobaccos for Chesterfield are put away.

There are about four and one-half miles of these Liggett & Myers warehouses filled with thousands of casks of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos, most of it lying there ageing and mellowing for Chesterfield cigarettes.

It takes just about three years to age the tobacco for your Chesterfields.

Everything that money can buy and that science knows about that can make a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better, is used in making Chesterfields.

complaints Made That War Veterans Were Being Favored at East St. Louis.
Thomas Creighton of Chicago, Federal director for Illinois of the Veterans' Placement Service, was in East St. Louis today to investigate complaints that war veterans were subject to discrimination in the Civil Works Administration In an informal hearing at the Broadview Hotel, local CWA rec-ords were laid before him. They showed that while there were eight applicants in East St. Louis for every one of 3000 CWA jobs, two out of every three veterans who applied for places got them. Under CWA regulations preference is given to veterans over non-veterans where other conditions, such as number of dependents, are equal.

Creighton is continuing his investigation of complaints. He said he had received 20 telegrams, 50 letters and oral complaints "too num-erous to mention." He is not interested, because of his position, in investigating other charges that Democratic political workers were favored in allotment of jobs. That situation is to be scrutinized beginning Thursday by a representative of the Illinois Department of Labor assigned by Gov. Horner.

GOV. PINCHOT SIGNS MILK ACT ADVOCATES VOTE Prices Dealers Pay. By the Associated Press. HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 3.—Gov.

Pinchot yesterday signed an act which provides for control of the Pennsylvania milk industry by a poard of three persons.

The board is empowered to fix prices which dealers pay and charge or milk and may permit differentials to cash and carry stores, but has no authority over contracts of co-operative associations with milk PWA Engineer Miller at producers. The act stated the board "shall" fix minimum wholesale and retail prices and "may" set maximum prices. Licenses are to be issued by the board, their cost depending on the volume of busi-desperate situation confronts Missouri becau the State Senate, in session for nearly 80 days, has been playing politics with human misery.

Federal relief funds have been withdrawn from the State by Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins, after four warnings that this would happen unless Missouri contributed its share of relief funds.

To date, the record is as follows: For relief-that is, for clothing, feeding and sheltering the helpless unemployed—the Federal Government has sent to Missouri since November, 1932, $8,200,000. The State has contributed the insignificant sum of $250,000.

In St. Louis alone, relief needs for January will be between $450,000 and $500,000. Despite CWA Angeles, and the former method has proved to be far work, 18,000 St. Louis families, plus 8000 unattached persons, are on the relief rolls. New applications are being received at the rate of 4000 a month.

LOS ANGELES LEARNS.

Learning about earthquakes by trial and error was preferred to learning by advance research in Los more costly and dangerous. One result has been the order to evacuate school buildings housing some 140,000 children, and the construction of 3500 tenthouse classrooms, at a cost of $1,145,000, with an even greater cost to follow when permanent structures are built. This is the result of a grand jury report, begun after the seismic disaster of last spring. which disclosed the dangerous character of school construction. The earthquake, fortunately, did not occur in school hours; if it had, the loss of lives would have been appalling. A previous jury report, after the quake, had recommended one-story school buildings in future, or taller buildings of Class A onstruction, and a uniform code for all structures.

Warnings have not been lacking in the past, but they have been blithely disregarded, under compulsion of the optimistic boom spirit. For instance, a book published in 1932, by John R. Freeman, an eminent engineer, warned California to prepare for its earthquakes, instead of trying to hide the fact that they occur in that region. "Where the mild climate permits slender construction," he said, "a vast number of buildings have been put up, with no particular regard to obvious precautions for safety against earthquakes." He warned against unbraced brick walls, "which a severe earthquake, such as seems certain to occur in this region sooner or later, would instantly topple on the heads of people be low, killing literally hundreds." Mr. Freeman praised the "admirable buildings" of steel reinforcement, and

The Revival of World Trade

N the comment at the turn of the year on the prospects of 1934, there are two dominant themes. One is that through out the world there are substantial evidences of recovery. The other is that the monetary policy of the United States is so uncertain as to disturb confidence and impede recovery: It is not denied that contemporaneously with the American policy there has been progress toward recovery. But a large majority of the commentators who write from the financial capitals of the world say or imply that there would have n more recovery if the dollar had been kept fastened to gold; in spite of our policy, Now, it is undoubtedly true that uncertainty is bad for business, and that a lasting recovery requires confidence in the Nobody in his senses would argue that it is desirable to keep the markets guessing as to what is going to be done with the dollar. But what can, I think, be maintained with a good deal of force is that at the year's end we were nearer to a sound monetary position than we were at the beginning; that, in spite of the bewilderment and the speculation, we have better money today than we had 12 months ago.

The critics of the dollar see that it is depreciated about 37 per cent from its former gold value. This shocks and frightens them. What they do not seem to see is that virtually all the other currencies which are used in international trade are depreciated by approximately the same If the dollar were not depreciated, it would. therefore, be abnormally valuable compared with practically all the other moneys in which the business of the world is conducted.

The only currencles which are not depreciated from their 1929 value are those of France, which, in 1929, had about 6 per cent of the world's trade: the Netherlands about 3 per cent: Switzerland, which had a little more than 1 per cent; Czecho-Slovakia, which had less than 2 per cent, I omit Geris carried on in depreciated reichsmarks. four-fifths of the world's trade is done in currencies which are depreciated by about 35 per cent or more. Now, why should it be dered inherently dangerous to put the dollar on a level with the money in which four-fifths of the world's trade is done?

Take the relationship between the dollar and the pound. For a century, a pound has been worth $4.86. In March, it was worth about $3.40. In December, it was worth about $5.15. Which was the more "abnormal"—a pound worth 30 per cent less than it has been for a hundred years, or a dollar worth 6 per cent more than it has been worth for a hundred years?

I do not mean to minimize the in venience and disturbance of violent fluctuations. But if there is any "normal" re-lationship between the pound and the dollar, it is much more likely to be the one which prevailed for a sentury than the one which prevailed for 18 months in the midst of a n. So I think that it is at least arguable that the present rel is more nearly normal than that which existed last winter.

I am confirmed in that belief by the fact that, under the present relationship, both Britain and America are doing more business. It will take a lot of proving to show that world trade, which has actually increased, has really been hurt by the realignment of the dollar.

None of this is intended as a claim that the monetary problem is solved and settled. It is a claim that we have made real prog-ress. And if we are looking for trouble, for truly "abnormal" monetary conditions, the place to look, I suspect, is not in the United States but in the gold standard countries of Continental Europe and in the silver and paper countries of Asia. In relation to the trade of the world, the franc and the lira are probably too valuable, the Japanese and Chinese moneys are probably too cheap. The over-valued gold currencies of France and Italy are likely to prevent those two countries from participating in, and contribut-ing their full share to, the revival of world trade. The excessive depreciation of the Asiatic currencies is probably destructive of certain kinds of prices.

In any event, the dollar today is in a reasonable relationship with the major cur-rencies of the world, a little cheaper than the British pound, a little dearer than the Australian and Scandinavian money, on an equality with the Canadian. Why such a relationship of approximate equality with be regarded as fantastic is rather hard to erstand. I can understand why a currency which is radically out of alignment other currencies should be suspect. But why the world should damn the dollar which is now approximately realigned with its currencies, why it should be held to be langerous to be nearer the old parity of exchange, is something that the alarmists ought to explain.

It is interesting to note that the realignment of the dollar has coincided with a revival of world trade, and that this revival is in its turn producing tangible evidences in Washington of a renewed interest in the lowering of tariffs. A year ago, following the lead of most economists, I believed that world recovery would have to be initiated by reducing tariffs. But what we got was higher tariffs everywhere. I now see, or think I see, what was wrong with that theory. It put the cart before the horse. In order to reduce tariffs, you have to raise prices and revive trade. For as long as prices are falling and trade stagnating, the peo-ples will insist on raising tariffs as a de-ples will insist on raising tariffs as a defense against unsalable surpluses.

Though I have made no exhaustive study of the subject, I wonder whether our own listory does not show that tariffs are raised as a result of depression and deflation and lowered after periods of prosperity and rising prices. The ariff was reduced in 1913, after a long period of rising prices. It was retained in 1922 after the great defletion of raised in 1922, after the great deflation of 1921. It was raised again in 1930, when the general depression had set in, and after ut the earlier history I speak with

Simplifying the Income Tax

From the Baltimore Evening Sun.

E ARLE BAILIE, special fiscal assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury, thinks it would improve income returns to require that they be signed not only by those filing them, but by the tax advisers who have prepared them, where such have been employed. That requirement, Mr. Bailie thinks, would compel tax experts to assume some measure of responsibility for the correctness of their work, with benefit to their clients and to the Treasury Department.

It may be as Mr. Bailie reasons. But apparently it never occurs to the special fiscal assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury or to any other official thereof that one real solution of the income tax problem is sim plicity. Complexities and intricacles of the ncome tax laws make it virtually impossible fo. persons of large and diversified incomes to prepare their own income returns. Hence resort to tax counselors. Hence division of nsibility. And these same complexities and intricacies make it possible for the unscrupulous to dodge and circumvent and de eat the purpose of the law. How much better it would be for all concerned, public, Mr. Bailie, Treasury Department accountants and Senate investigators, if the income tax returns were reduced to such simple computations that any man could prepare his own. Divided responsiwould be less possibility of the unscrupulous hiding their trickeries. The public would approach the fifteenth of March with far less suffering in mind and spirit,

Did we not have a relaively low tariff policy in the '40s and '50s? I wish someone who knows the history of these things would study the rise and fall of protectionist sentiment in its relation to After all, it is not hard to see why people should want higher tariffs when prices are falling. They want to exclude foreign competition and maintain employment. No is it hard to see why they should want low r tariffs when prices are rising and em-loyment is good. They want foreign com-etition to reduce the cost of living, and hey are willing to buy more abroad in order So it is altogether reasonable that, hav-

States, the administration, which was highly "intra-national" last spring, should now be showing interest in lower tariffs and more be showing interest in lower tariffs and more foreign trade. The policy of self-containment is often explained in fine language and with great idealism. But for the people at large, it is a policy which is based partly on fear and partly on sour grapes. When business is contracting, the people fear foreign business; when they cannot sell their goods abroad, they listen to those who tell them they must not hope to sell their goods abroad. The moment the underlying situa-tion changes, this mood changes, too. And there is good reason to think that we are witnessing such a change.

BRECKINRIDGE LONG ATTENDS ITALIAN ROYAL RECEPTION U. S. Ambassador and Wife at New Year's Function of King and Queen for Diplomats. By the Associated Press

ROME, Jan. 3.—Diplomats of all the nations accredited in Rome, and their wives, saluted King Victor Emanuel and Queen Elena yesterday as the royal pair stood for more than three hours in the Quirinal Palace in their New Year's reception to the corps.

Among the guests were Ambassador Breckinridge Long of St. Louis, Mo., and Laurel, Md., and Mrs. Long. They were accompanied by Alexander Kirk, Chicago, Counselor of Embassy, the Secretaries, army, navy and commercial attaches and

The diplomats were received according to the seniority of Ambassadors Mgr. Borgongini-Duca, Pa-pal Nuncio to Italy, and dean of the Diplomatic Corps, led off. The American civilian officers were the customary costume for royal func-tions, full dress, with a black instead of white waistcoat. The military attaches were in full dress uniforms, and the women wore dresses with long sleeves and high riecks.

Tradition provided the only difficult moment of the audience for the Americans. Unpermitted by custom to turn their backs on the royal pair, they were forced to walk out backwards, bowing all the while. The distance was about 75 feet.

This year, although it is two months before even the entries for the Kentucky classic can be announced, the bookies already are laying odds against leading candidates and the favorite is once more a filly—Mata Hari.
The quotation against this erratic youngster is 15 to 1-and abe is "all alone" at this figure, according to Tom Kearney, dean of America's future book operators. This is the longest price offered against an early choice in more than 10 years.

The big price is due to the fact that the two-year-olds of 1933, like the three-year-olds, were not distinguished by any outstanding representative. In fact, the records of all the leading racers which turned their three-yearold birthday with the New Year, are spotty. Some fine performances were registered by several candidates; not even Mata Hari has been consistently good.

THE daughter of Peter Hast-ings War Woman (with the blood of Man o' War to fall back upon, through the dam) started whirlwind finishes at the start

Then she sulked, losing three successive races at a time when the most was expected of her. Near the finish of the season, she was coaxed into running again. old campaign by winning three events in succession, including the Kentucky Jockey Club mile and the Breeders' Futurity. She was the first juvenile ever to accomplish this feat.

The Derby favorite of 1934 gains the honor in spite of two important drawbacks—sex and a contrary disposition. That she gets the post of public choice indicates that professional betting men think that she has the racing qualities to win, but doubt if her sex and disposition will permit her to do her stuff next May.

Stamina in Question.

THAT, of course, explains the long price of 15 to 1 against her. In addition to the drawbacks named, Mata Hari is not ruggedly built and it is a ques-tion if she will develop into a powerful three-year-old, able to run the mile and one-quarter distance against sturdy colts.

Already they nave been inclined

A fast break : she has the important advantage of being able to sprint free of interference in a few strides-if she can be induced to break. Trainer Clyde the Derby, the only Man O' War colt to accomplish the feat, thinks that he has broken his charge of bad habits. And just to make sure that climate and other con ditions are right, Mata Hari already is in Kentucky at Dixiana Farm, undergoing preliminary grooming for the $50,000 (we hope it will be that figure) race next May.

THOSE who may want to risk I the family plate on Mata Hari probably will clamp down on the bank roll when they recall what happened two years ago, when another filly was made favorite. Flight. Top Flight was made winter

It is seldom that the "weaker sex" can compete with colts in their mature form. History shows a comparatively small number of fillies or mares that have achieved fame as racers. Nevertheless, this year, just what are you going to do with our giddy equine girls? Besides Mata Hari, there is the filly Tatanne, which is now on a win ing streak of six consecu tories and looks like a future great. Thus the two standouts of the probable Derby list are fillies, and followers of form merely stub a mental toe when they try to get around the performances of this pair in the ef-fort to pick a colt that can beat ator Bennett Clark Introduc Resolution Against So-Called Reed Amendment. at to the Post-Dispatch. Two young men were held today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri today in-troduced a resolution to repeal that part of the so-called Resed amend-ment which prohibits newspapers on complaint of Charles Broder, 313 Clark avenue, who charged he was robbed of $200 on New Year's eve carrying liquor advertisements from after being given drugged whisky going into dry territory.

If Clark is successful he will wipe from the Federal statutes what former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri thought was a joke at the said one young man, with whom he which his colleagues in is acquainted, came to his room

Congress took seriously.

In 1917 Reed thought that the Federal prohibition agitation was becoming preposterous. Thinking that he could reduce their arguments to an absurdity he feestly which Broder took from a tin can hidden under a stove. The borrower departed.

Later, the second young man, a ints to an absurdity, he facetious-introduced an amendment to the stoffice appropriation bill of 1917, bhibiting the use of the mails to ly introduced an amendment to the prohibiting the use of the mails to was unconscious 10 minutes after advertisements of alcoholic bev-erages. against the division of the country into Western and Eastern sections

The code, they complained, fixed wage for the Eastern section and 40 cents for the Western section. The complaint set forth further that Baltimore, Md., was placed in the Western division and that as a result manufacturers of that city were given an unfair advantage the New York market over the Connecticut firms. The Connecticut manufacturers charged that division of the country was "arbitrary, capricious, unreasona-ble and without foundation in fact or law and that is constituted a confiscation of property without due process of law, a deprivation of liberty of contracts, and unlawful discrimination between citizens of the United States."

District Attorney Served. United States District Attorney Frank S. Bergin was named one of the defendants and issuance of the injunction was disclosed when the order was served on him.

The order permits the five petitioners to pay less than the minimum wage specified in the code and enjoins Gen. Hugh S. Johnson and other Federal officials from refusing to issue NRA labels to thority of a Federal District Court in Connecticut to issue a tempo rary restraining order against enforcement of the coat and suit code on five Connecticut manufacturers. Some of them pointed out that the District Judges generally have no injunctive power outside their own districts and that neither Gen.

Hugh S. oJhnson nor the code authority could be stopped from acting under the code. Acceptance of service by Johnson to whom papers in the case were presented last Saturday, would not alter the situation, these officials said.

Also in question, they suggested, was the point whether the United States District Attorney named as a defendant could be restrained. A possibility existed that the entire action might be ignored by NRA on a belief that the Court would find the case beyond its jurisdic-tion. The United States may require that cases against it be plead in District of Columbia courts.

While the restraining order will permit the manufacturers to pay less than the code minimum wages for its duration, it was doubted here that the code authority, with offices in New York City, actually could be compelled as ordered by the court to give the manufactur-ers NRA labels Therefore, since the retail clothing codes forbid sale of garments not displaying these labels, Washington officials sug-gested the Connecticut men may have gained little legitimate advantage by the move.

REVOLT REPORTED IN CHILE. 100 LEADERS UNDER ARREST

Argentine Government Gets Word of Pian for Uprising in Uruguay Also. BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 3.—More than 100 alleged revolutionary plot-ters were under arrest in Chile to-insurgent movement in Santiage, Valparaise, and Conception.

The Chilean Government an-nounced it had suppressed the uprising. The plot was headed by former President Carlos Ibanes, now in exile in Argentina, according to reports here.

The Argentine chancellery confidentially has advised the Government that enemies of the present Uruguayan administration are pre-

Uruguayan administration are preparing for an uprising aimed at the overthrow of President Gabriel Terra.

The chancellery indicated that the oppositionists were concentrated in the northern part of Argentina, intending to cross the river into Uruguay when plans for the revolt guay when plans for the revolt Royal Neighbors of America.

Men who made $4000 to $5000 last year will increase to $5000 to $7000 for 1934.

1933 was the greatest year of success in the history of this company, just as 1932 was larger than 1931, and 1931 almost 100% ahead of 1930—at a time when most companies were unable to sell their merchandise profitably under

Clectrolux requires, however, that men who seek advantage from this opportunity must really and actually have that will to prosper. It offers opportunity free—instruction without charge—equipment without purchase or deposit—financial backing on all business transacted; but Electrolux is not interested in backing men who are not seed enough in backing men who are not good enough business men to strive earnestly and honestly for daily success. Our product is extremely unusual—not a refrigerator

Likewise, it must be understood that those Akewise, it must be understood that those wan are inexperienced in work of this kind must be prepared to get along on nominal earnings of $125 to $200 per month (some men $105 to $150), while learning, as we cannot tell how readily any man can learn and sdapt himself to original work of this mature.

for you feel you qualify for a successful place in this business, and if you would like to join an enterprise that is sound and secure in its product, its market, its policies, its finances, its programme and its management—if you would get a thrill in being a part of ELECTROLUX FORWARD in this interesting year of opportunity——1934——apply Thursday morning, 9:15 to 1:15, at 561-564 Paul Brown Bidg., 9th and Olive Sts.

SALESMAN—Real estate business will be good in 1934 for a bustling, wide-awake, neat-appearing salesman with car. Have made opening right new for a peppy man. Straight liberal commis-sion. Leads. Pleaty of help. Apply Thursday morning, H. A. O'ROURKE, INC., North End Office, 3622 N. Spring.

SALESMEN—If you desire to start the new year with a clean slate having tired of a hand-to-mouth existence, of a fluctuating up and down income, of the uncertainty of steady employment, see Mr. Smith, 902 Louderman Bidg., 11th and Locust.

Saleswork TOUNG MAN—Age not over 23; high school graduate preferred; local and out of city work; hotel and transportation expenses guaranteed; also good pay. Apply 9 to 12 a. m. Thursday only. 1703 Continental Life Bldg.

JOHNSON GETS FINAL AUTHORITY ON MINOR CODES

President Directs That Administrator Need Not Refer Documents to Him for Signature.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. - New power was placed in the hands of Hugh S. Johnson by President Roosevelt yesterday in an order that gave to the NRA head the right to put into effect all codes for industries that do not normally employ more than 50,000 men. This cleared from the presiden tial desk a load of work which he did not want to handle during the congressional session. He retained exclusively to himself the power to sign codes for the large trades, and to impose codes on those which do not come in voluntarily.

The order was issued with approval of 13 new codes by Mr. Roosevelt, making NRA's effective total to 195. The President ordered also tariff investigations into com plaints that matches and felt hat bodies were being imported in in-creasing quantities to the harm of code authority to impose new cus tomer charges on all bank deposistandard scales of service charges.

These came from all parts of the country. Some said the stay order had saved country and small-town banks from destruction, others

EVEN in this day of exaggerated claims in advertising, there is nothing we can add to strengthen this unsolicited praise from the mother of these lovely, sparkling twin girls - nor do we want to give St. Louis Dairy Country Milk all the honors.

Dairy Country Milk: It is Fresh-bottled and pasteurized almost immediately after milking.

However, here are a few of the simple facts about St. Louis

It is Extra Rich-from carefully chosen, regularly inspected herds (many of these farms have furnished St. Louis Dairy Milk for three generations). It is Extra Pure-Guarded naturally and scientifically from farm to home by the most up-to-date methods and finest equipment known. And it sells at the price of "regular" milk.

"Until you stand up with me as my best man, idiot. Linda's not going to keep me waiting much longer, are you, dear?"

"Not long," she returned.

"That doesn't tell me how long, though. I wish you'd be more definite about the date. Three months ago you said we'd get married as soon as you finished that course of cooking, and you're finishing next week, aren't you?"

Linda nodded.

HROUGH his connection with Delibes et Cie, he had known Fay for years as a customer who had from time to time sought his advice in respect of additions to her celebrated collection of jewels. A full-blown creature lively and kind, the strangest combination and grand dame and gamine, with the presence of the one and the elan of the other, he had rrem the first liked her without knowing more about her than that she was mistress, by marriage, of millions; holding what he heard of her caprices immensely entertaining, and admiring the woman for her light-hearted refusal to be smothered by her indisputable social station while at the same time keeping her skirts clear of the slightest smirch of scandal. Accepted everywhere, but stubbornly declining to be anything but herself, she had come to be more than a mere personage. Fay Crozier was a trans-Atlantic tradition. Fenno was in her own way no less individual and in no way like Fay, a nymph as delicate in every aspect as Fay was extravagant, yet every whit as vital, of a pensive turn but quick with her peculiar wit, restrained of gesture and at the same time spirited, incomparably pretty and as fine-strung as a daughter of the Faubourg St. Germain-she was captivating.

you this deep, positive, direct penetration. For Penetro has a base of highly refined mutton suet and nothing penetrates like mutton suet. Penetro goes deep within . . . four times deeper than any cold salve ever developed ... with powerful cold-breaking medication that brings quick relief, draws out the aches and pains, breaks up congestion, soothes inflammation and drives out that cold before ordinary salves and methods get started. Mothers like Penetro because it's so nice and all there is to success, as you may have noticed in reading my remarks here lately. Knowledge of what you are aiming at, the effect you desire to produce, is not enough. Many have made the mistake of sitting around dreaming of having a million dollars, and waiting for something to happen to bring it to them. Some have even (!) made the error of thinking there is such a thing as a horoscope so lucky that its owner can't lose, or the opposite; so unfortu-nate its owner couldn't possibly be happy., Neither case is true. With out the picture of perfection before you as a guide, that is, without a real plan of what you want to accomplish, mere undirected effort brings more trouble than joy. FRISBY GETS OFF TO FLYING START

WASHINGTON - Congress man Horace Frisby rode triumphant through the streets of the national capital on a street car today. In an exclusive interview with the conductor, Mr. Frisby re-vealed his hopes and fears for the today.
"Personally," declared Frisby "I favor lower taxes, higher pay for Congressmen, free speech, old age pensions for Congressmen, justice pensions for Congressmen, justice for all, free transportation on com-mon carriers for Congressmen, world peace, box lunches for Con-gressmen, lower tariffs on silk un-derwear and ladies' hosiery, and a recreational bowling alley in the Congressional library. I will of course, ask consideration for my bill making every Congressman an honorary admiral in the Navy. If any of my constituents happen to ride on your street car, do not be afraid to tell them that Congress-man Frisby sent his respects and would have been on hand to greet them, had it not been for sudden illness and the fact that he was

B. Toler Named; State Insurance Superintendent Says Policy Holders Will Be Fully Protected.

ED MAYS DENIES MISMANAGEMENT

C. G. Revelle Removed as General Counsel Tuesday After Differences With President on Policy

The Continental Life Insurance o., with about 45,000 policy holders and $100,000,000 of insurance in orce, is temporarily in the hands f an agent of the Circuit Court. ending a hearing before Judge it amilton next Saturday on a peti-

The petition was filed late yesterday by R. Emmet O'Malley, State Superintendent of Insurance, who, also asked for an order permanentrestraining the company from further prosecution of its business. O'Malley charged that the com-pany, of which Ed Mays is presi-"has for a long time past been so grossly mismanaged that the same is now insolvent or will become greatly impaired and in-solvent if the present gross misnagement of said company con-nues for any further length of time." He asserted that as a re-sult policy holders and others insted therein would suffer "great and irreparable losses." Toler Takes Charge.

Judge Hamilton appointed E. B. Coler, a representative of the State nsurance Department, as agent to take charge of the office and assets of the company, and last night To-ler and his employes were in pos-session of the company's offices in the 22-story Continental Life Building at 3615 Olive street, just west of Grand boulevard. Toler had been at the company's office by special arrangement since last July, O'Maley said.

This is the second large insurance ompany with headquarters in St. puis against which O'Malley has egun dissolution proceedings since he came into office last July. The irst was the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., which last Aug. 28 was adjudged insolvent on his petition to which the company as-sented. The assets of Missouri State Life, which had nearly one billion dollars of insurance in force, were co sold to a new company, the General American Life Insurance Co., which American Life Insurance Co., which assumed the policy obligations subject to a 50 per cent lien.

O'Malley has not made known what his intentions are for disponents of the policy of th what his intentions are for disposition of the Continental Life. Under a bill passed by both houses of the Legislature at the present special session and awaiting Gov. Park's signature, the Superintendent of Insurance would have authority to operate an insurance company, arrange for reinsurance, or liquidate or mutualize it. or liquidate or mutualize it.

Statement by Mays.

President Mays declared in a frestatement that the insurance company is sound.

"The only statement I want to make," he said after a meeting of the board of directors, following filing of the suit, "is that the Continental Life Insurance Co. is in fine shape. And there has been no mis-

"The $1,000,000 in the Grand Naional Bank and the Wellston Trust o. is perfectly safe. Insurance commissioner O'Melley was in Washington when it was agreed the deposits in these banks would be paid the insurance company 100 per cent, with 6 per cent interest."

Mays added that the condition of vi the Continental Life compared fa-vorably with that of other companies and that it had net earnings of $204,000 in its accident and the health department in 1932.

Deposits in Grand National.

Part of the insurance company's deposits referred to in May's statement are in the Grand National Bank, of which Mays is president. This bank, occupying the ground floor of the Continental Life round floor of the Conuncinal Building, has been in the hands of a conservator since the bank holilay last spring. The Wellston Trust Co., which owns a large block of stock of the Grand National Bank, holds the other part of $1,000,000 de-posits. It has been closed since the bank holiday.

Plans to reopen the Grand National Bank and pay all depositors in full were announced a few days ago, but O'Malley said today the reopening of the bank probably would be delayed because the plan involved some use of insurance company funds to purchase or release some assets of the bank. Under this plan Mays was to retire led on Page 11, Col. 1.
